The complete I.T. and telephony outsource solution ...

As specialists in I.T. and telephony solutions and support, we understand that each business will have individual needs and requirements. We are dedicated to providing professional services tailored to your organisation, no matter what size or industry.

At LuxTech, we pride ourselves on being one of London's leading I.T. and telephony suppliers. We offer corporate, yet cost-effective support that's completely hassle-free, releasing you from the stress of having to worry about your network so that you can concentrate on what you do best ... making your business a success!

Unlike many of our competitors, we offer a service that is personal. We work closely with you to understand what drives your business and deliver fast, effective solutions. Any member of your business can simply pick up the phone to our dedicated support team.

Technology is a fast-moving industry and we make every effort to be ahead of the game. We also understand that in business, you can't afford down-time. In all instances we'll work quickly to solve your system issues. Through proactive support, we'll spot problems and fix them without you even knowing.

Our people

Our team has over 36 cumulative years experience of working with or as your I.T. department, providing innovative and essential solutions for businesses ranging from the small to the multinational. Our technicians and field engineers are all highly skilled and undergo full and rigorous security clearance checks before joining us. We believe in investing in our people to ensure that they are abreast with the latest developments in the industry so that they give you the best advice at all times.

Our highly skilled team include Microsoft Certified Partner System Engineers, Apple® Mac Systems specialists and telephony and mobile communications experts. We also work with Networks First, our enterprise-network data and IP telephony support partner who assist us in developing and delivering comprehensive coverage for our larger clients.

What makes us different?

Unlike many other I.T. companies, we certainly won't force our way of doing things onto you. We will work with you to provide the best advice and solutions. More importantly, we are friendly and approachable and can work with any member of your organisation to remove the stress of I.T.

In everything we do, we aim to be as unobtrusive as possible, building and maintaining systems that suit you and your company, enabling you to spend your time using your systems, not fixing them.

Our quality of service is second to none. Many people say this, but don't actually put it in practice - we do. Our entire organisation has a 'can-do' approach. We'll always work hard and fast to solve a problem should it arise; most issues can be solved off-site, more often than not without you even realising. In the event that we will have to attend your offices, we guarantee a response time of 2* working hours for on-site desktop support and other network related problems.

Our aim is to build long term relationships with our customers, based on mutual trust and understanding, and we always strive to exceed expectations, not just meet them.
